UPPERCLASSMEN HEAR NEW REGULATIONS

Coaching Courses Planned For Michaelmen By Jacobs

Although most coaches hug their secrets to their chest like desperate poker players, George "Doc" Jacobs is going to give Michaelmen the advantages of his years of coaching and playing.

Rev. Gerald E. Dupont, academic dean, announced this week that "Doc" will begin a series of classes in coaching Oct. 5. The first course, called "Methods and Materials (Football)" will be given Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at 12:30 in College Hall. Two credits will be given for the course.

Chief reason for the introduction of these courses is the necessity for many teacher trainees to handle coaching assignments as well. The dean feels that, reinforced with some of Doc's athletic magic, graduates will find it even easier to land teaching jobs and to do a better job once they have been landed.

In the second semester "Doc" will have a similar course covering the highlights in basketball and baseball. While both courses will touch on organization of athletic departments and their financing, the St. Michael's Athletic Director plans a complete course next year in helping solve these organizational problems.

The courses may be taken as part of the regular schedule or as an extra course with the approval of the dean. Jacobs who came to St. Michael's last fall after a successful decade in the prep years at his Alma Mater, Villanova, has also taught there.

Champlain Game Bus Trip Today

The Student Activities Council, directed by Father Moriarty, has lined up vocal support for the football team Saturday.

If 60 students are obtained, a bus will be available to take Hilltoppers to the game at Plattsburg. The fee would be about $2, Father Moriarty said.

The public relations office at Champlain said that St. Michael's student activity tickets, shown at the gate, would entitle Michaelmen to admission for 60 cents. The game is scheduled at the Plattsburg High School gridiron and a number of the students plan to drive over in the hopes of seeing the Purple eleven make it two straight.

Student Body Is Benefited

By TOM BREEN

The Student Activities Council is beginning its second successful year here at St. Michael's. This is the group that will keep the social life going on campus.

The purpose of this council is to supervise the activities of the classes, and other student organizations of the college; to foster initiative among undergraduates; and to contribute to the development of Catholic Lay Leadership by providing an outlet for that leadership in all campus activities. This is where students can voice opinions and tackle difficulties. It is the official body between the students and Administration.

Each class has three representatives, two delegates and the president. This is the way the Student Activities Council functions. If a class or club wishes to run a dance, the council grants them a date. After plans are made by the class or club, the organization and financial reports are presented to

Pen and Mike Club

At its first meeting of the school year, held Monday night in Austin Hall, the Pen and Mike club elected officers for the coming year.

Tom Kenny, St. Michael's junior, was elected president while Virginia O'Brien of Trinity was chosen Secretary-Treasurer.

Dick Wall, retiring president, turned over the gavel to Kenny, who welcomed all new members to the organization.

A planning committee was voted to assist the president in scheduling and co-ordinating the WJOY Sunday broadcasts. Jack Scully and John Merigan were chosen to represent St. Michael's on this committee.

Rev. William Mulligan, chaplain of the Bishop de Goesbriand Hospital and moderator of the club, outlined the expanded program for the coming year, which will include, in addition to the program aired weekly through station WJOY, possible weekly transcribed programs through local stations in Rutland, Waterbury, St. Albans and St. Johnsbury.

HUMAN RELATIONS COURSE OFFERED

Seniors and juniors were told at their meetings this week about the new course offered in the School for Human Relations.

The course, given by Leo Casey, will offer two credits. Friday at 5 was set as the deadline for those wishing to take advantage of the course.

the council. If it approves of the report, permission is given to start work. This insures the best entertainment possible for all. If the organization loses money, it is backed by the Student Activities Fund. However, SAC has the experience to cut down that possibility.

If students have a complaint about the dining room, classes, condition of a hall, the library, student life in general or anything pertaining to their benefit, they should speak to their class-delegates. If it is within reason, he will present it to the council.

HAVE POWER

This group of students has a great deal of power. The constitution has been compared with many other Catholic colleges and universities and those who checked have found that St. Michael's gives the students more say in the Student Activities Council than other colleges.

Penalties Slated For Infractions

Upper classmen had the law laid down to them Wednesday at their first meeting of the year with the dean of men, Rev. Dr. Lorenzo D'Agostino, in Austin Hall. The frosh, during their week of introduction to the campus, had heard the rules governing them, but this was the first gathering of the old-timers.

Father D'Agostino said that a new Student Guidebook was being prepared, but that it was still at the printer's and that this was necessary to establish uniformity in discipline both on and off the campus.

New problems, he said, were raised by the necessity of having the Junior class live off campus and by having so many teen-aged frosh on campus. He asked for the same cooperation that had been given in the past, but warned that certain rules must not be broken, particularly those governing drinking, weekends, hitchhiking and "borrowing".

So far as possible, the same rules will apply to those living off campus as to those on campus, the dean said. The 11 o'clock curfew for weekdays and the 12:30 deadline for Saturday nights will be enforced, the dean said. Freshmen have a 10 o'clock curfew and midnight on Saturdays.

WEEKEND PERMISSIONS

Weekend permissions will be given this year to seniors and juniors at the discretion of the rectors; twice a month to sophomores, and once a month to freshmen. Weekends may not be spent in the local areas. This rule had to be applied because last year some students abused the privilege of frequent weekend permissions to go bounding in town.

Permission for weekend leave must be obtained in person from the rector and a note approving the leave must be obtained from the parent or guardian. Notes may not be needed for vets or those over 21.

DRINKING REGULATIONS

The new Student Guide notes that the State of Vermont makes it illegal for persons under 21 to buy or drink intoxicants in a public place. School regulations decree that no student under 21 may drink intoxicating liquor. Drinking of intoxicants by those over 21 is tolerated, the dean said, excepted on campus and in off campus homes. The student who violates these provisions, he said, or who is reported by proper authority to have violated the regulations is liable to semester suspension.

House mothers had been previously told at a meeting by the dean of the regulations, and copies of the rules will also be supplied to them.

Woo Terpsichore

The men of the Outing Club, anxious to get into shape for a vigorous winter season, are planning some indoor training.

A series of Saturday night dances, slated to begin tonight, will give them this chance to get into condition and also to put the club treasury into shape.

The club is planning a Winter Carnival in February and wants to make it even more successful than last year's.

Dancing tonight is from 8 to 12, and admission will be only 50 cents per couple. Top recordings will provide the music. Jack Burke and Bill Acton are active on the committee. Admission will be to couples only.

Student Activities Council Considers Member Expansion

By BUCK McMAHON

Initiating the second year of its existence, the Student Activities Council, convened this week for its first meeting of the school year.

Several members of the SAC had donated their services to the school during Freshman Week and so have been on campus some time, but no official session of the Council was held during that period.

The students' representative body set to work at this meeting to dispose of several immediate matters and prepared for action on others.

OUTING CLUB

In action on a request submitted by the Outing Club, a motion was made and passed and a vote taken that gave the Outing Club all Saturday evenings that are free and unrestricted during the winter for the promotion of record dances. If any conflict arises as to any Saturday night, the Outing Club will be notified.

Tom Breen, Soph president, requested and received five dollars for the purchase of flowers to cheer up the room of Bill Dillon, who is recovering from an operation at Fanny Allen Hospital.

AMENDMENTS DISCUSSED

Not voted on, but discussed and prepared for near future voting, were the following cases:

1. An amendment to increase the Council membership from 2 to 3 members from each class, over and above the president of the class.

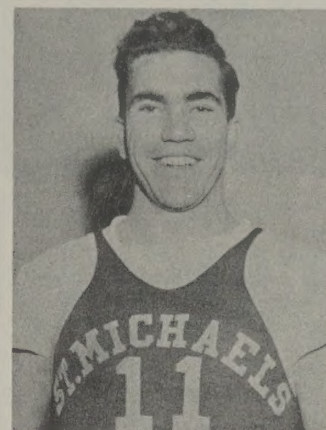

It was felt that larger classes, more numerous duties of the Council and future plans call for increased membership.

2. An amendment to add a corresponding secretary to aid the secretary and share in his duties.

3. The need is seen, for expediency and protection, for the assignment of two SAC members to each campus activity to supervise and assist in the preparation of said activity.

4. Arrangements are to be made for the use of the public address system for announcements to the student body of events and of facts immediate to them. They should be made on the same days of each week, at the same week, at the same hours, so as to become regular and consistent. A specific group, it was suggested, should be assigned to this task and every announcement is to be written, not given if not on paper.

The meeting was adjourned with a prayer.

CARL COFFEY is president of SAC which held the first meeting this week and planned to amend the Constitution. Coffey was captain of last year's varsity basketball team.

RADIO WORKSHOP

By DON GIBBONS

Again this year Milton Slater, Production Manager of WCAX, will attempt to make the Radio Workshop course at St. Michael's College the great success that it was during the '47-'48 session.

The ability of Mr. Slater and the worth of the course itself are already established facts to all but the newcomers to our campus, and the lack of numbers at recent classes has been primarily attributed to a failure of the freshmen to fully understand their value.

The Radio Workshop offers an opportunity for the actor, the announcer and the technician, both potential and accomplished. It covers, both in theory and practice, all phases of radio from management and the broadcasting of short commercials to newscasting and radio acting, with adequate instruction in the technical aspects involved in each. If your interest lies behind the scenes. Each student will be given an opportunity to handle those all important mechanical devices so necessary to radio production.

Those who have, or think they may develop an interest in any field of radio, are invited to drop around Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 in O.H. 47. The class will be glad to have additions and the old timers know the newcomers enjoy being with us.

Champlain Next Foe For Knights

Fresh from an inspiring win over Vermont, the Purple Knights will attempt to keep the ball rolling this Saturday, when they travel across the lake to engage the gridsters from Champlain. It will be the second meeting of these two schools. After sixty minutes of bruising play at Centennial Field last year, the score stood 12-12.

It will also be the second game of the present season for both clubs. While the St. Mike's eleven was in the process of knocking the Catamounts down a peg or two last week, Champlain was losing a tough one to Clarkson 19-13.

The pre-game dope on this contest had the Engineers from Clarkson a two or three touchdown favorite.

The Champlain gridgers, under Coach Paul "Moose" Woerner, concentrate on a strong defense while the backs stress a fast aerial game. The backfield is light and Coach Woerner depends on a deceptive passing attack for the Bluejays scoring punch.

A few days prior to the Clarkson game, a shift was made in the backfield which sent Bobby Rohr from right to left half and leaves the Brooklyn lad teamed with scabback Bill Powell of Lenox, Mass. at the right half-back spot. George Waller of Schenectady does the quarterbacking for the Bluejays, while Hal Dragan, a Mohawk College transfer, gets the nod at full-back.

That Vermont Game

There isn't a Michaelman, no matter of what vintage, who doesn't feel that this is a better world by virtue of our 13-2 triumph over Vermont last Saturday. The "new look" is definitely on St. Michael's sports.

However, despite the second guessing of the pundits who predicted Vermont by a big margin and then marshalled their statistics to prove that we really weren't entitled to win, one ineradicable fact remains - we did win and the score book shows it.

That game was not won by luck; it was won by the traditional Michaelman spirit, revived and translated into tough, victorious action by "Doc" Jacobs, Bill Piscione and Barry Branon, and by the football men themselves. Unless they had all worked hard, over and above the usual work required of football teams and staffs, victory would not have been ours.

There's a moral in that victory for those who do not play football, but who pride themselves on being equally good Michaelmen. The moral is that you can't expect to win unless you are fit. Father Lyons stated the same truth in much more beautiful language Sunday, but the lesson is worth repeating.

Reward in this life - or the next - comes only to the man who prepares for it.

Help Wanted

The Michaelman, - your paper, - needs help. It seeks to be, as the masthead states, a paper, "by and for the students of St. Michael's College".

The paper is produced by a volunteer staff with the aid of those who have registered for Journalism. We believe that those who read the paper will agree that it has a first rate editorial staff. Experience pays off.

However, the most wonderful paper in the world is no earthly good unless it is read, and we are told that many students -- and even some pros -- did not see the first issue. This we regret, and hope to correct.

With more than half our student body living off campus, it is difficult to make sure everyone gets his copy. Until we can figure out a better system, students living off campus will have to pick up their Michaelman at the library.

Each dorm will have its own circulation manager. He will be responsible for picking up the paper when it arrives from the printer and for seeing that everyone in the dorm gets a copy.

The Michaelman also needs volunteers for the mailing of copies to relatives and alumni. These should report to the Public Relations office.

Any Dale Carnegies who can sell advertising will also be appreciated, because even printers must eat. And lastly, we'll try to make it a NEWSpaper. So, secretaries of clubs will PLEASE let us know what's going on. We'll do the rest.

Dreams That Work Can Buy

Thinking back not too many months most Michaelmen can remember their dream of future college days. Somewhere in the college catalogue pile they read of St. Michael's in Vermont and their thoughts immediately turned to a miniature major league university, complete with ivy covered halls and ski trails on blanchard mountains. When they arrived, their dreams were somewhat shattered. A microscopic observatory was the only building that the ivy had thought about, while the halls were white enough to be mistaken for the mountains.

But there were compensations. Instead of being pumped with talk on preserving an age-old tradition, they were told that they were making that tradition and moreover, that, through a progressive and effective student government, they could decide its course.

A few such boasts began to materialize. Intramural leagues were formed; social events were numerous; and most pertinently, the cafeteria system in the dining hall was revised into a well managed waiter system.

With added responsibilities, the students soon realized they were not alone in their hopes for a name college.

A faculty and alumni had long had the same dreams and at present, those dreams are coming true.

The Science hall, putting on the finishing touches, will soon be ready for classes; the new library is already in use, and the athletic field has started. So after serious consideration of the situation, most of the illusions have been put aside for constructive, sincere teamwork.

And while we again find ourselves dreaming, it is with the understanding that what we dream of is almost here.

Tickets Available

Students who are musically inclined will be able to get student rate tickets for the Burlington Community Concert series. These tickets may be obtained for $3.00 either from Dr. J.K. Durick or from John Donoghue at the Public Relations Office.

Wednesday night in Austin Hall, there will be a movie with music, telling of the coming concert series. Four concerts are planned with the Rochester Philharmonic as the main attraction. Rudolf Serkin, the noted pianist, is another attraction, with two other artists yet to be named. After the current campaign, no other tickets are available.

PURPLE KNIGHTS AFTER NO. TWO TODAY

By Jerry Healy

Outweighed and outstatisticked but never outscored, the Purple Knights took advantage of breaks Saturday at Centennial Field to set the UVM Catamounts back on their heels, 13-2.

Krupinsky to Knight was the passing combination of the day. Krupinsky's pass to Knight late in the first quarter was good for St. Michael's first score of the game and the Purple couldn't be held back from winning.

A hard fighting, high-spirited, and well-conditioned Purple and Gold eleven surprised the crowd of 5000 by turning in what may be the upset of the year in Vermont and perhaps even in New England. It was the first varsity victory for the Hilltoppers in 15 years. Back in 1933 St. Michael's won the state title but dropped the game until last year.

Playing their first game under the tutoring of "Doc" Jacobs and Bill Piscione, the Michaelmen were no powerhouse, but a few tricky plays and heads-up quarterbacking paid off and the Knights are off to a good start on victory lane. In their grid rivalry, the Knights have now won two, and the Cats three.

The ground offense for the Mike-men was nothing to speak about as they gained 36 yards against 164 for the Cats. When the chips were down, the Knights took to the air and netted 61 yards on two aerial plays in the second period for a goose pimpling touchdown.

The game was a thriller from the opening kick-off to the final whistle. In the first eight minutes, it was Vermont all the way, but then the Purple and Gold took the ball and began to move. Krupinsky pulled a short pass over the line to gluefingered Bob Knight for a first down, followed by another pass down the mid-field stripe good for the first TD.

PURPLE LINE HOLDS

It was then Vermont's ball and the backfield combination of Hurley and Farrell moved the ball inside the Purple 10, but the "Seven Blocks of Granite" would not give ground. St. Mike's took over and Ray Borzelleca's punt was blocked and he was nailed back in two point pay dirt by Hobie Cook for Vermont's only score in the game.

CONDITION TELLS

Conditioning paid off for the Jacobsmen all afternoon. Each St. Michael's player walked off the field almost as fresh as he went on to it. Co-Capt. Clem Ferris, who played 60 minutes, was in fine shape all day and he was seen in the Vermont backfield most of the time. Joe Hermans, Jim Conboy, and big Jim Whitlock all were in the game about 56 minutes.

In the second half, it was the Purple and Gold most of the way. Bill Hart took the ball around left end after a blocked punt by Whitlock and set up the second touchdown for the Michaelmen. Len Tyl moved the ball inside of the five where Hart on a handoff from Ed Krupinsky found a narrow hole in the right of the line and scored the second touchdown of the day.

DESPERITO CONVERTS

Ernie DeSpirito was sent in to convert the extra point and the ball just sneaked through the uprights for the 13th point of game. Happiest man on the field was Paul 'Atom' Galarneau who just naturally fell on a Vermont fumble.

On the defense, it was the Purple line without any question. Twice in the same period they held up the middle of the line and the Green and Gold had to try the ends to no avail. Hennessey and Knight wouldn't permit the Cats to skirt the ends so Vermont lost the ball twice on downs, just inches away from pay dirt.

The game ended with St. Michael's in position of the ball on the mid-field.

Intramurals Open Soon On Hilltop

By BOB FLANAGAN

All the budding Bertellis on campus will have an opportunity to exhibit their athletic prowess and earn undying fame for their hall when the intramural touch football league opens its season in a few days.

The league will operate under the same rules as last year. That means eight man teams, blocking is permitted and five downs are allowed instead of the customary four.

Last season the champs, Old Hall 4A, were guests at the "Block M" dinner. In line with "Doc" Jacobs' announced policy of building up the intramural system, some kind of recognition will probably be devised for this year's leaders.

As yet Coach Jacobs has had little luck in his attempts to obtain another field for intramural use in addition to the observatory field. "Doc" may find it necessary to list Sunday games to provide playing time for all the teams.

Meanwhile he will be busy with his slide rules and logarithm tables trying to figure out the best possible schedule. Any news regarding the makeup of the league or the schedule will be posted on the main bulletin board.

14 UPPER CHURCH ST. BURLINGTON, VT.

St. Michael's 13, UVM 2.

The Purple Knights proved that the secret of good winning football is in conditioning. Bill Piscione and Doc Jacobs, two conditioning experts, led their chargers to the victory which shows that manana is here. The training camp paid off.

The outstanding laurels for the day went, after much hesitation, to Ed Krupinsky, the 170 pound quarterback from Springfield, Vt. Krupinsky, playing in his debut in college football, featured in both of the TD's for the Purple Knights. A pass from Krupinsky to "Gluefingers" Knight in the first quarter was good for 48 yards and a six point lead over the Cats.

Once again it was Krupinsky. Inside the Vermont five yard stripe, after an unsuccessful line buck by Len Tyl, Krupinsky handed off the ball to Billy Hart on a quick opener to the right and Hart slid through a narrow hole and that made the score 12 to 2 in favour of the Michaelmen. Quarterbacks Krupinsky and DeSpirito, had more tricks up their jerseys then Carter has liver pills.

CONBOY CONVERTED CENTER

Conboy, by the way, is a converted center from last year's varsity. In last season's 28 to 6 defeat at the hands of the Catamounts, Conboy received a serious knee injury and was just about washed up for the rest of the year although he tried again later in the season, but that knee just wouldn't hold up.

The other half of the Krupinsky combination was the outstanding lineman for the afternoon. It was Bob Knight from Turners Falls, Mass., who was most effective on the offense and defense. Knight was in on every tackle on his side of the line and often on the other.

"Gluefingers" Knight is right. The pass from Krupinsky to Knight in the first quarter for the touchdown was a pass that just had to be caught. Knight had about five yards lead all the way and Bob must have mercurial feet the way he caught up with the pigskin.

Knight's partner on the other end position, Jack Hennessey, was just as clever as Bob, but with some deep consideration, Knight was voted the victor by one vote over Hennessey. Sorry Jack.

Ernie DeSpirito looks like Jacobs' choice as the point-after kicker for the Purple Knights. In the third quarter after Hart's TD DeSpirito parted the uprights for the final scoring of the game.

Jack Hurley, the outstanding back for the Cats just couldn't find his pass receivers.

KLAESS, DENNIS NEWCOMERS

Dick Klaess and Don Dennis, two newcomers to the Knights, played a superb job on the defense all afternoon. At various times during the fracas these athletes, newcomers to the College football ranks, backed-up the forward wall like professionals.

Ray Borzelleca, another newcomer in the college rank, was very nervous in his first few minutes of play, but soon after was well initiated in college football. One of his end-over-end punts in the second half was a breather. It landed on the two yard line and bounced to the left and out of bounds.

Once caught back inside of his ten, Borzelleca took off like a deer and ended up on the 25 yard line. Ray was hit by a taste of hard luck in the first quarter when he was tackled behind the goal line, after a bad pass from center, by Captain Hobie Cook of UVM.

Another newcomer to college football, Ronnie Coleman, made his debut a successful one. The St. Albans lad was in the game only for two plays to punt the Knights out of their territory. The first punt was pretty, but who should down the ball but Coleman! The second was blocked and Ronnie picked it up and ran about ten yards with the pigskin. For all the stay at home supporters of St. Michael's, Arnold Lewis did a splendid job of announcing the game over WCAX. Lewis will broadcast more of the St. Michael's games later in the season. Green Mtn. Boys Debunked In Dean's New Vt. History

Fr. D'Agostino and Art Fraser examine dean's new "History of Public Welfare in Vermont".

The first history of public welfare in Vermont from turbulent colonial days, through the period when branding and the cutting off of ears were legal punishments, to the more recent period when progressive social legislation has been put on the books, is unfolded in a new book, published this summer and written by Rev. Dr. Lorenzo D'Agostino, SSE, dean of men at St. Michael's.

The book, "The History of Public Welfare in Vermont", with a foreword by Gov. Ernest Gibson, punctures the popular notion that the Green Mountain Boys were defenders of the poor. Such was not the case, Father D'Agostino notes, citing records of their own day to show that they were often the tools of the land speculators who pretended to be interested in the settled farmers.

VERMONT REPUBLIC

Recalling that Vermont was a republic from 1777 until its admission into the Union in 1791, Father D'Agostino traces the various influences on public welfare legislation to the present. Between the enactment of the state's first penal code which permitted imprisoning debtors and the present, Father D'Agostino writes, "Much has been accomplished, but the progress made in public welfare legislation in Vermont in recent years augurs well for the future."

Vermont legislators from 1933 on Father D'Agostino writes, should be given great credit for "The promptness with which they acted to make the state's welfare laws conform with laws passed by Congress, thereby enabling large amounts of federal money to go to the poor of the state."

Some welfare laws, however, have not accomplished all that was intended because of power abuses by the overseer of the poor, according to the author who is associate professor of Sociology at St. Michael's.

LAUDS SSE's

The first person in the state to earn a doctor of philosophy degree in social service, Father D'Agostino, a native of Providence, R.I. dedicates the book to his family. In his acknowledgements, he thanks the president and faculty of St. Michael's College for subsidizing the four years of research that went into the book. He also cites the faculty at Catholic University where he took his doctorate, Senator George D. Aiken and his staff, as well as the staff at Congressional Library in Washington and the Vermont State Library at Montpelier. The book is available at the bookstore.

ART BY FRASER

The dust jacket on the book depicting the big city mirage that has often drawn the young of Vermont from the hardy soil is the work of Arthur Fraser, of Rumford, Maine, junior at St. Michael's.

Mission Movies Resume Sunday

Sunday evening movies will be resumed this week in Austin Hall. These shows, under the auspices of the Mission Crusade, have been a regular Sunday evening entertainment feature for several years past. They begin at 7:30.

Rev. Maurice Boucher, moderator of the Mission Crusade, said that several top notch movies have been lined up for this year. Admission is 25 cents and the proceeds help the Southern missions of the Society of St. Edmund.

"How Green Was My Valley" is the movie this week.

Pre-Med Examination Deadline October 6

The Medical College Admission Test, sponsored by the Association of American Medical Colleges, will be given on October 30, 1948 and Feb. 7, 1949 at UVM.

This test will be required of applicants for the fall term, 1949, to medical and dental colleges which are members of the Association of American Medical Colleges.

Students who plan to apply for admission to the fall term 1949, should take the test Oct. 30, 1948, since many medical colleges begin selection of students for the next academic year in the fall.

Father Dupont urges that pre-meds make applications at the Dean's Office before Oct. 6. All applications must be sent before Oct. 10.

Bard's Buddy

ALFRED RYDER will be seen both in "Hamlet" and "Macbeth" which Margaret Webster's internationally famous Shakespeare company will present Oct. 22 and 23 in the Burlington Memorial Auditorium. The Knights and Knaves Dramatic Society is sponsoring the shows.

VERMONT FORUMS OPEN WEDNESDAY

Wednesday night, Oct. 6, will be the first meeting of Vermont Forums in Burlington. Dr. J. K. Durick and Prof. E. F. Murphy report a large registration on campus for the $1.75 series tickets. Don Powers is student chairman.

The subject Wednesday will be "America's Second Chance".

Asked to comment on the Forum series, the Very Rev. Daniel P. Lyons, president of St. Michael's, said: "I am convinced that the Vermont Forums deserve the active support and participation of all Vermonters who wish to keep alive the democratic ways of the New England Town Meeting. We all need to work together and to think our problems through together in open and friendly discussion. This is the intelligent way -- the Vermont way -- the American way."

Mass of Holy Ghost

A stirring talk on the responsibilities of a Michaelman was given by the president of St. Michael's Sunday at the opening of the school year. The Very Rev. Daniel P. Lyons, president of St. Michael's, condemned as "baseless superstition" the idea that "instruction about God will endanger the continued separation of Church and State".

Speaking at the traditional Mass of the Holy Ghost which opens the school year, Father Lyons, in his first talk to the largest student body in the college's history, declared that "strange as it may seem, a public school teacher may tell his students of Darwin and his apeman, Marx and his mechanical man, Freud and his nightmare man, Stalin and his slave man - but he risks severe condemnation if he tries to mention Christ and His pure man, His freewill man with a conscience."

BE 'CHRISTOPHERS'

Catholic college men, the St. Michael's College president said, have a unique opportunity to use the benefits of their education. Urging them to be "real Christophers", Father Lyons said the world today is "bewildered and confused" and that men of faith can help to end the confusion.

Father Lyons said a Catholic College president has the advantage of addressing his remarks to "men of faith". Other educators, he said, do not have such a solid basis for their remarks and can not take for granted any such unity of philosophy.

COMMANDMENTS SCORNED

Father Lyons noted the way in which the 10 Commandments are flouted. He said, "As for adultery you will be offered a new guide, a scientific report they call it, which is promoted as a best seller. According to these pundits, there is no such thing as right or wrong - nothing is abnormal and all laws protecting society from the abominations of Sodom and Gomorrah should be repealed".

He also attacked the idea that there is no such thing as stealing, and remarked that "today wife coveting has become a great new sport extending from coast to coast".

"You men of St. Michael's", Father Lyons said, "are a minority", but you are a powerful minority because you are men of faith. Think of all the good that can be done if your force of 1000 strong could be combined with the thousands from other Catholic Colleges. It can be done if you practice what you learn here."

Father Lyons was assisted as deacon by Father Dube and as subdeacon by Father Galligan. Father Poirier was master of ceremonies. Father Laurence Boucher directed the student choir.

Father Linnehan Is Honored At 25th Anniversary Party

One of the quietest and most popular men on campus was given a surprise dinner party this week at which Bishop Ryan and prominent clergy from the Society of St. Edmund and the diocese gathered to pay him honor.

VARIED BACKGROUND

Father Linnehan, whose gentle ways in baseball and basketball during student days earned him the nickname of "Spike", is known throughout the state. He has been director of St. Ann's Shrine at Isle La Motte, state chaplain of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and is now Director of the St. Edmund Laymen's Retreat League.

Director of Juvenists and Treasurer for the Society, he was college treasurer for five years, moderator of athletics 11 years and a former coach. He has been a first Councillor for the Society and is now president of Alpha Nu chapter of Delta Epsilon Sigma, the Catholic Honors Society.

College Yearbook Seeking Volunteers

Fred Jones, editor of The Shield, the college yearbook, has called his first staff meeting Tuesday night, 6:45, in the library.

Jones who will have the assistance of a large number of students worked on last year's very successful yearbook.

However, additions to the staff are needed and welcome, Jones said.
